Preparing for Series 3

Bendigo and Albury to feature in a “mixed bag” of episodes.

Welcome back to “Inline Plus” update after a delay of around two years.

Inline Plus is preparing to return for Series 3 in December/January 2022/23. Invites have been sent to groups in Bendigo and Albury, with a handful responding. The result will be a 5 episode series. Details of these are listed inside.

Shoots for series 3 will take place around July, August and September on an “as required” basis. We will do our best to fit in with the groups who have responded, and the events that they may run.

I am still doing Renal Dialysis on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This will cause a few problems if events are scheduled for one of these days, as I won't be able to attend them. We hope that most of the events attended will be on a weekend.

Some of the episodes will be “studio based”, using Zoom to record the interviews. This format is needed because some of the interviewees are located overseas or interstate.

However, their contribution will be an important one, and we will aim to make these episodes as complete as possible.

A sad aspect of the series is a tribute to Sarah Strong-Law who starred in our first series in 2007/8 with John Powell. Sadly she passed in February this year in tragic circumstances. More details inside.

Overall, we are looking forward to getting back in production.

Returning for “one last time”.

Series 3 will be the farewell to the “Inline Plus” concept, and will be the finals series of programs. The topics covered are ones of personal interest, and are an ideal way to finish the TV program aspect. We may still do online videos for our 100+ YouTube subscribers in future if the opportunity rises.

At this stage, we have the go-ahead for a 5 episode series from C3I Melbourne. 44 Adelaide have yet to respond to our application for airtime at this stage, and we suspect they will await our first new episode before deciding whether to run the series.

As always, the resulting episodes will be available on YouTube and Facebook after their first broadcast on TV (most likely C3I Melbourne). They will also be available for “preview” by participating groups after the editing process, most likely commencing October.

We have quite deliberately allowed a lot of time to do this series, due to restrictions on my time due to Dialysis and Illness. We ask for your patience with this process, as editing, in particular is a time-consuming process.

The first shoot is scheduled for Albury for late in the month, where we will visit the Albury Skate Centre. Then a few studio “Zoom” style shoots will follow, and then it will be down to Bendigo to visit Dragon City Roller Derby. Sadly, Melbourne and Sydney topics are off for now, due to the travel restrictions on me doing Dialysis.

There is still a “vacant” episode available. If this is not taken by a local group, it will be on an “overseas” topic via Zoom.

Tribute to Sarah Strong-Law

Sadly, in February this year, Sarah Strong-Law, known to viewers of our program by her Derby name of “Barrelhouse Bessy”, passed away in tragic circumstances. Without focusing on the circumstances, we will be paying a tribute to Barrelhouse Bessy in the final episode of the series.

The segment will be hosted by husband, W Boone Law, and hopefully will include a “Zoom” interaction with one of Sarah’s best friend’s “Smarty Pants” from the USA.

Our full tribute to Sarah can be seen at inlineplus.net/sarah

Inline Certification Program to open Series 3 on TV.

Kris Fondran of the “Inline Certification Program” will feature in Episode 1 of the new series of Inline Plus.

We will discuss the program, and how it is helping to train Skate Instructors Worldwide through a new Online Training Program.

Once this has been discussed, we will move on briefly to tips for new skaters wanting to learn skating themselves.

This is one of two international topics on the current series. The other is currently “open” for someone to take.

NAT opens a Web TV Channel.

NORTHERN ACCESS
TELEVISION
Media for the community

Northern Access Television has a library of “back programs” from over 30 years of broadcasting on Channel 31 Melbourne. We also have a need for a place for our current weekly shows to be available in the one convenient place at the same time each day.

To help with this problem, we will soon be commencing a “Web TV” Channel!

The channel will be available on the front page of our main website:-

nat.org.au

Eventually the current episodes of our on-air programs will be featured on the channel, with “fill-ins” from our library of past programs.

Look out for the new web TV service on the website of NAT soon!
